Enhance Your Classes
with Harn Museum of Art Resources

With more than 11,500 works of art focusing on African, Asian, modern and contemporary art, and photography, the Harn Museum of Art offers faculty opportunities to help their students experience art, history and culture, sometimes in unexpected ways. We offer tours, assignment collaboration and up-close engagement with art, valuable to many disciplines.

Contact Education Curator of Academic Programs Eric Segal at 352.294.7063 or esegal@harn.ufl.edu to brainstorm how the Harn can help support your teaching and research.

SELF-GUIDED TOURS

Classes or groups may tour the museum during all hours of operation. Groups of 10 or more should make an appointment to ensure a successful experience and avoid conflicts with other touring classes.

TOURS & PRESENTATIONS

Guided tours and presentations by Harn curators and staff can be organized to connect with your classroom objectives in virtually any discipline. Docent tours on general or specific topics can be arranged for groups of 10 or more and must be scheduled three weeks in advance. Tours in Spanish are also available.

HOLD A CLASS AT THE HARN

Break the semester routine and inspire students with the Harn's surroundings. Two classroom spaces are available for University of Florida faculty and their students. The rooms are equipped for multimedia presentations.

OBJECTS STUDY

Open your students up to the experience of studying objects first hand. Instructors may select works from the Harn's extensive permanent collection for use by individuals and small groups in the museum's object study rooms. This opportunity is open to all disciplines and allows for the direct examination of art to encourage understanding of diverse cultures, historical periods and materials. Browse our eMuseum database on the collections area of the Harn website to view a partial listing of objects.

RESEARCH & EXHIBITION COLLABORATION

Funds from the Dr. Madelyn M. Lockhart Endowment for Focus Exhibitions support creative collaboration between UF faculty and the Harn. We work with faculty to develop small art exhibitions emphasizing research and teaching interests of the faculty member.

EDUCATOR RESOURCES

The Harn Museum of Art offers a number of resources, including access to the Bishop Study Center, a library offering books, magazines, newspapers, videos and additional references for use in the facility.
